Brand new from Rhea Marine - the under 10m wheelhouse with the seakeeping you expect from a Rhea Marine, but outboard powered. This new model from Rhea Marine is modern yet traditional; elegant and comfortable; subtle yet different. The spacious wheelhouse has many windows to let light into the functional and modern space. The harmony of premium materials and attention to detail is simply stunning.

The planing hull is capable of speeds up to 50 knots; the straight bow has a modern feel to the famous Rhea seakeeping abilities.

In less than 10 metres, this Rhea 32 offers accommodation for four and full galley facilities. The spacious wheelhouse is complemented with frameless, large windows allowing excellent visibility underway; the numerous hand and grab rails ensure safe passage around the boat.

As standard the 32 Timonier from Rhea has a sliding door at the helm and a rear door allowing quick access for both crew and the helm. With these doors open and the opening roof hatch there is ventilation aplenty in the saloon area for relaxing.

The kitchen area has a stainless steel sink, a 12V fridge, twin gas hob and various storage areas; options include adding an oven.

The boat can sleep four, or six if using the optional convertible saloon. The forward cabin provides a semi island berth - the luxurious feel is continued by both the size and appointment of materials used. Light abounds as a result of the many fixed and opening hatches. In fact, the entire forward part of the roof opens to allow you to lie in bed and watch the stars on a balmy summers night! Additional sleeping is another double berth, accessed via the forward cabin.

The boat can be customised in many ways - hull colour, internal fabrics, amount of external wood or synthetic wood for example.
